

Two white classical columns, likely Corinthian, are positioned on the left and right sides of the image. They have fluted shafts and ornate capitals with acanthus leaves. The columns are set against a light blue background.

Accidence and Syntax

How sentences are built